History

Ketteringham Hall is steeped in history. It's origins date back to William the Conqueror and it was once the childhood home of Lady Jane Grey. The Hall, as it stands now, was substantially built during the 1840's by the Boileau family who lived there until 1948 when it was sold to the Duke of Westminster. During the Second World War the property provided a headquarters to the US Second Air Division. By 1950 it was occupied as a preparatory school and subsequently in 1965 by Badingham College. In 1969 the Hall changed hands and was used by Group Lotus Car Co and Team Lotus International Formula One Racing Team. Most recently it was home to Lotus Cars.
